NEW BOOKS

Droit international humanitaire coutumier

Volume I : Règles

Auteur(s) : Jean-Marie Henckaerts et Louise Doswald-Beck Avec des contributions de Carolin Alvermann, Knut Dörmann et Baptiste Rolfe

Année : 2006

Edition : Bruylant

ISBN : 2-8027-2265-4

Pages : 878

Call No : 05NB009 V1

C'est à la demande de la communauté internationale que le Comité international de la Croix-Rouge (CICR) a entrepris en 1996, avec le concours de nombreux experts renommés, une étude de grande ampleur sur la pratique actuelle des Etats en matière de droit international humanitaire, afin de circonscrire le droit coutumier dans ce domaine. Le présent ouvrage – complété par le volume 2, Practice, qui n'existe qu'en version anglaise – est le fruit de cette étude. Il présente une analyse complète des règles coutumières de droit international humanitaire applicables dans les conflits armés tant internationaux que non internationaux. Etant donné que certains traités essentiels dans ce domaine n'ont pas encore été universellement ratifiés, cette publication revêt une importance cruciale, puisqu'elle définit le noyau commun de droit international humanitaire qui lie toutes les parties à tous les conflits armés. Cet ouvrage sans précédent sera un outil capital pour toute personne concernée par le droit international humanitaire.

Monitoring Places of Detention: A Practical Guide for NGOs

Editor(s): Esther Schaufelberger, Barbara Bernath
Publisher(s): Association for the Prevention of Torture (APT), Geneva, Switzerland
ISBN: 2-940337-05-5

Date of publication: Apr 2004

Call NO. : 07RC003

The APT is an international non-governmental organisation (NGO) which envisions a world in which no one is subjected to torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

The APT has been leading the international campaign for the adoption, entry into force and effective implementation of the Optional Protocol to the UN Convention against Torture (OPCAT), an international legal instrument which seeks to open all places of detention to international and national scrutiny.

This new APT's publication is a practical guide for non-governmental organizations (NGOs) visiting places of detention with the intention of preventing torture and ill-treatment. The guide provides advice on how to monitor in a manner that enhances effectiveness, and gives guidance on issues requiring special attention, such as medical services or protection measures. Moreover, it also explains the different types of monitoring mechanisms and their complementary nature. The publication is also available in Russian.

CONFERENCE ALERTS

Good Governance and Non-State Actors in International Law: An African Perspective August 27-29, 2007 Pretoria, South Africa

The International Law Association's 2007 Regional Conference, sponsored by the South African Branch of the International Law Association (SABILA) in conjunction with the VerLoren van Themaat Centre for Public Law Studies of the University of South Africa. The conference aims to bring together international lawyers from Africa and the rest of the world to discuss good governance as a developing phenomenon in international law with particular reference to the changing role of non-state actors in the international arena. Human rights, corporate governance, environmental law and sustainable development issues will be addressed through academic papers and panel discussions.

The UN and Regional Organizations: Partners for Peace and Security July 24-August 4, 2007 Ghent, Belgium

The Academic Council on the United Nations System (ACUNS) and the American Society of International Law (ASIL), in cooperation with Ghent University and the Royal Institute for International Relations (IRRI-KIIB), are pleased to support the seventeenth ACUNS-ASIL Summer Workshop on International Organization Studies. The purposes of the workshop are, first, to encourage new directions and new ideas in the analysis of international organization(s) and related legal studies; second, to establish and strengthen contacts between international relations and legal scholars and the United Nations practitioners; and third, to stimulate advanced research and teaching in the specific workshop subject matter.

The workshop is intended to foster excellence in emerging scholars and practitioners who are at a relatively early stage in their careers. Therefore it is designed specifically for junior professors in international relations and international law faculties, post-doctoral and advanced doctoral level students, young lawyers and practitioners from civil society groups, policy staff from international organizations, human rights and development advocates, and others at similar early stages of their professional careers.
